

Scuba Santas 2008

Hello, and welcome to scuba santas 2008!

Thank you for coming down to Vobster Quay and taking part in what is a truly wonderful event.

Please follow all instructions given to you once the event gets started. We will be splitting into groups of about 10 and descending to have photographs taken and then continuing on our dive (a quick circuit of some of the attractions).

Provisionally it is planned to be in the water for 10:30am after having group photographs (with or without scuba gear) around 9:45am.

- 9:50am – Introduction and Hellos
- 10:00am – Group photographs
- 10:20am – Groups begin entering the water
- 10:30am – First divers decent on to the Jacquin
- 11:30am – First dive over – time for chestnuts, mince pies, and mulled wine!
- 2:00pm – Second dive if anyone isn't too cold!

Please fill in the form at the bottom of this note and place in the box by the food van – the form gathers information on emergency contacts, allows us to invite you to next years event, and pass the information to the Guinness Book of Records should the record be approved.

Please keep up with news (and photos!) after the event at <http://www.scuba-santas.co.uk>. Donations to the RNLI can be taken for a few months after the event. Most of all this is a fun event, enjoy yourself, how often will you get to dive with a swarm of santas!

Safe diving,

Lloyd Watkin (info@scuba-santas.co.uk)
Event Organiser

P.S. My deepest thanks to Tim and staff at Vobster Quay for all their help in organising and hosting this event. Thank you to all those who have helped, and most of all to the SCUBA SANTAS!
